

BLUE HIGHWAY

presented by Greater Cincinnati
PERFORMING ARTS SOCIETY

"Where Great Arts Support Great Education"

as the Most Awarded Instrumentalist in the history of IBMA with 15 Dobro Player of the Year Awards, and was nominated for a 2015 Grammy Award for Best Folk Album for his collaborative album "Three Bells" with Jerry Douglas and the late great Mike Auldridge. Blue Highway received the Most Radio Airplay of any Bluegrass Artist for 2014, per the 2014 Bluegrass Radio Airplay Chart released by Bluegrass Today. As momentum continues to build for the 21-year strong powerhouse band, Blue Highway breaks into 2015 with Sold Out shows accounting for half of their concerts to date. Their newest album The Game recently topped the national Bluegrass Unlimited album chart at #1 for 7 consecutive months. The Game was also named the #1 Bluegrass Album of the Year by critic Daniel Mullins in his end of the year Top 20 Albums of 2014 list in Bluegrass Today.
